

Calling that week
the kids have off
in the spring

a “break”
is misleading

Sometimes it's hard to hide
how crushed I am

when they
knock down
my block tower.

Bounce houses
would be so much more fun

if these kids
would give me
some room.

Of course
I let the kids
decorate the tree!

I just rearrange all of the ornaments
when they're asleep.

Just let them
walk up
the dang slide.

I was going to put plastic wrap on the toilet for April Fools' Day...

then I realized the joke would be on me.

Don't tell the kids

but I kind of

love it

when they don't finish their

dinosaur
chicken nuggets

I just told a room full of coworkers

that I was going to the potty.
